Says Mokena Branch Court Will Close Doors June 1

After June 1 where will the police of Mokena, Frankfort and New Lenox take traffic law violators and others suspected of flouting the law? That was the question raised by State's Attorney George Sangmeister at the meeting of the Mokena village board last week.

The state's attorney said that he has been informed that the Mokena branch of the circuit court will be closed June 1.

Whether cases from this area will be taken to Joliet or Monee or someplace else is bothering local police departments. They prefer not to be chasing over the countryside when they are required to appear in court. Probably residents of the area feel the same way if they are called up to report in court, it was said.

New Lenox village hall is equipped with a magistrate's bench and there is room there to conduct hearings. The village board there indicated it was willing to give the court room to the judicial set up of the county, rent free, if the circuit judges will designate it a branch. The board is even willing to allow its business secretary, Glenn Donaldson, to serve as a part time clerk for the branch.

The Mokena board proposed that the court be kept at Mokena but that the rent -- which the court system is said to be shying away from -- be split three ways among Mokena, Frankfort and New Lenox. The rental is $100 a month. William Penn, village attorney for New Lenox, told the board there he did not think the communities could use village funds to pay rent for a branch court. The state or county is supposed to meet the costs of the new court system.

There are but five magistrates to serve all of Will county and most of them hold court at Joliet.

Vet Groups Sell Poppies This Week-End

This weekend will be Poppy Days in New Lenox, Frankfort, Mokena and Orland Park for the benefit of disabled American servicemen.

The crimson poppy that grew in the battle riven soil of World War I battlefields has ever since served as a memorial flower--first for the veterans of the first World War and now as the silent spokesmen for Americans of all wars.

The replicas of these blossoms are made by disabled ex-service men. They are purchased from them by American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts and sold to the public around Memorial Day. Proceeds from these sales are utilized by both posts and women's auxiliaries to aid needy and disabled veterans.

Lincoln-Way High Again Accredited

Supt. A. H. Chapman was recently notified that the Lincoln-Way High School had once again been placed on the approved list of secondary schools for the 11th consecutive year. Each year the member schools are evaluated by the state committee using their established criteria and policies as a basis for accrediting.

A school is judged on many standards such as: teacher qualifications, teacher assignments, curriculum, variety of subjects, equipment, extra - curricular program, community and board of education support.

Starting next year a new evaluating procedure will be started, providing for the local faculty to self-appraise the school along with several teams of educators from area schools. Their main objective will be to offer assistance and guidance where needed rather than to inspect. Several of the L-W staff in turn will serve the association for a period of three days next year.

People's Party Contests Three Township Offices

A petition for a recount of the ballots cast for supervisor, town clerk and town auditors in Frankfort township has been filed by the People's party in the Will county circuit court.

The petition is a double-barreled instrument, so to speak, in that it also asks that the election of Berle Needham, of Mokena, as assistant supervisor, be declared null and void.

August J. Santoro, a member of the law firm of Sangmeister & Santoro, who was elected assessor on the People's ticket, is serving as attorney for the party in the court case.

The defendants are Supervisor George Tate, Town Clerk Harold J. Cooper, Town Auditors August Werner, Richard T. Heim and Rudolph S. Urbano, Sr., and Mr. Needham.

No request was made for a recount of the vote for town collector because the margin of the winner, Burnett Schram, was too high to be overcome, and, of course, the office of assessor was not involved because the People's party won that in the election.

Ted Massey, who ran for supervisor, and Al Behnke, who ran for town clerk on the People's ticket are inscribed as the petitioners.

According to the official returns Tate's vote was 1,142 and Massey's 1,013, a margin of 129 votes; Cooper's vote was 1,206, Behnke's 938, a margin of 266 votes. The vote for town auditors, three elected, was close. On the Republican side Werner was high with 1,090, Urbano next with 1,081 and Heim third with 1,078. There was but 18 votes difference between Heim and Mrs. Florence Pitman, who was high on the People's side with 1,060; Cal Heath was next with 1,045 and Wilbur Schalk third with 1,016.

The People's party did not have any write-in votes for assistant supervisor. Needham was originally nominated for assistant supervisor at the Republican caucus but at the time the ballots were printed his name was not included because there were no census figures to show the population of the township exceeded 7,500. Before the election, however, the preliminary report of an official census for Frankfort township revealed the population to be 8,000 or more. The People's party questions the legality of the write-in for Needham and the court is asked to decide the question.

Urges Area Planning

The Mokena Chamber of Commerce held its annual spring dinner at Willowbrook last Sunday evening and danced to the music of Wayne King.

Charles Swanberg, a past president of the organization, was master of ceremonies.

Frank Grey, president of the Chamber, spoke briefly, pointing out the importance conserving resources--the chief of which in the area he said, is land--thru careful planning and resistance to small pressure groups.

The Chamber of Commerce, he said, is not a pressure group but representative of all parts of the community. The Mokena body, he declared, was ready to back a water main expansion in the village as a necessity.

He urged that Mokena and Frankfort work together for the area so that its development and growth may be properly channeled.

Ralph Ordman, ticket chairman, reported 169 persons were at the dinner, some of whom were from Frankfort.

Farm-based recreation is a salable product. Recreation enterprises are a rapidly growing business in the eastern states and are gaining momentum in the mid-western states. By developing tourist and recreational facilities to take advantage of this specialized market, it may be possible for farmers to make extra income.

With flameless electric heat, for example, each room can have its own thermostat. You can enjoy 80° in the bath, 72° in the living room and 65° in the bedroom. There's no burning fuel, nothing to make dirt . . . walls and furniture stay clean far longer. Come summer, electric air conditioning wrings heat and humidity from the air along with most of the annoying pollens.

Electric cooking takes the flame out of the kitchen. People stay cooler, and pans, walls and curtains stay cleaner. And, because electric heat is controlled heat, it takes the guesswork out of cooking. Foods cooked in an electric oven have a done-to-a-turn flavor that only radiant heat and insulation on all six sides can provide.

Electrically dried clothes come out sweet and fresh because there's no burning fuel to cause an odor. With no pilot light, power ignition or extra cost for tumbler drive, the average family's drying bill comes to only $1.25 a month.* And an electric dryer costs $20 to $40 less to buy.

See how easy it can be to move up to total electric living at your house. Call us for details, today.

You stay cool, calm and collected with flameless electricity. Precise, automatically controlled cooking, washing and drying—are at your fingertips.

Much of the demand is for water-based recreation, such as swimming, fishing, boating, canoeing, water skiing, skindiving, and hunting. People also enjoy picnicking, camping, hiking, sightseeing, and just relaxing near the water. Recreational enterprises in rural areas include vacation farms, camps and campgrounds, picnic areas, facilities for horseback riding, swimming and boating, fishing and hunting, winter sports, and nature study.

Studies show that farm recreation offers an income potential that is untapped mainly because farm families do not know how to start such enterprises or how to carry them out. Farm recreation, like other farm enterprises, requires study, technical guidance, patience, and follow-through. Generally, successful recreation enterprises have the following characteristics: (1) the operator had received specialized training in the undertaking before he assumed full responsibility (2) the facility was advantageously located and well advertised (3) the initial operation was large enough, when considered in conjunction with the rest of the farm operation, to provide full-time employment for the operator and his family (4) the enterprise had been operating for some time (5) the operator had correctly evaluated the demand (6) he had spent both time and money in making the facilities attractive.

There are several things to consider before deciding whether to develop a recreation business on your farm. You must analyze (1) the recreational potential of the site, including water resources, physical characteristics of the area, and other natural attractions (2) the services available to the area, including existing and proposed highways, public transportation, electricity, and telephone (3) the regulations and restrictions in the area, including zoning, building, and plumbing codes, health and sanitary regulations (4) problems of flooding and drainage.

The next major step is to determine what type of recreation enterprise the community is ready to accept, and what type you as owner or operator are prepared to manage. You should also consider the liabilities and insurance needs connected with the project.

If your preliminary study indicates that a recreational enterprise is feasible, you should then prepare a long-range plan. It is advisable to include realistic estimates of investment requirements, operating costs, gross returns, and net returns. It is important to plan adequate publicity so that potential users will know about the project, its location, advantages, and possibilities.

Farmers and landowners have the opportunity to provide outdoor recreation facilities that are in growing demand. Those who have well-planned, well-managed enterprises stand a good chance to realize a profit from them. Experience indicates that those who begin on a small scale and gradually enlarge their operations stand a better chance for success than those who start on a large scale. In recreation, as in any other enterprise, sound management is important to success. Liking and understanding people is essential.

The Summit Hill Parent-Teacher Group held their final meeting of the term.

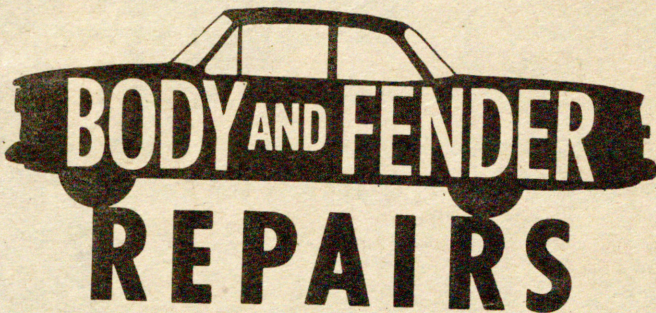

Unfortunately the number of parents exactly equaled the number of teachers present, eleven. A pretty sad turnout for the installation of the new officers.

Lions Turtle Derby Set For 7 p.m. Memorial Day

The Frankfort Lions will hold their fifth annual Turtle Derby on Memorial Day night in the school gymnasium.

The club had originally planned to stage the event as part of the Memorial Day celebration in Community park, according to James Walker, president, but in order to avoid a conflict with other afternoon events it was decided to run off the derby at the grade school.

The affair is scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock.

Turtles may be purchased from any Lions club member and the price is $5 per turtle. The purchaser can name his own "jockey" but the "jockey" must not be more than 12 years old.

The "jockey" of the winning turtle in each race is awarded $1 and the opportunity to participate in the grand championship.

There will be prizes for the four fastest turtles in the championship go. First prize is a bicycle; second prize is a transistor radio; a stuffed lion goes to third place and a stuffed cub lion will be awarded to the finisher in fourth place.

The purchaser of the winning turtle in the championship race will also get a prize and spectators will receive prizes for guessing the winner of each race.

Children who want to be jockeys can register at the Lambrecht Agency, 22 S. Ash St.; those whose names have already been placed on ticket stubs need not register, it was stated.

There is no limit on the number of turtles one may purchase, as far as any rules are concerned that have been quoted to date.

"As in other years," said Mr. Walker, "the proceeds from the Turtle Derby will be used to support our blind, Care and mentally retarded programs. However, a portion of the money will be used right here in Frankfort to help improve Community and neighborhood parks and the Little League."

Will County Club League Plans Bi-Annual Meeting

The Spring bi-annual meeting of the Will County Club League will be held May 25 at the Symerton church. The president, Mrs. Donald Webster of Elwood, will open the meeting at ten o'clock. The annual election of officers will be held and annual reports given by the president of each club.

Maybelle Trotter of Coal City will present a travelogue of colored slides on her recent tour of Europe. A book review will also be featured. The musical addition to the program will be organ selections by Mrs. Alice Larsen of Kankakee.

Sandburg Nine Still In Running For SWS Title

BY BILL KAROLICH

Last week the Carl Sandburg ball team had three losses and one win, tossing them out of state competition but they still remain in contention for conference honors.

The Eagles started off the week with a 7-4 victory over Oak Lawn in the Sandburg District opener. Roland Roth went the distance picking up his fourth victory of the year. He allowed six hits, four runs, one of which was earned, struck out ten and walked three.

Everyone in the Eagle line-up, except Jerry Knapp, collected one hit. The big blow of the day was a two run homer by Jeff Bodwin in the bottom of the sixth inning.

Wednesday, May 12, the Eagles took on Lemont in the District final. Don Urbanciz pitched the first three innings, giving up two runs on four hits, but had to retire in the fourth due to a blister on the middle finger of his pitching hand. Ed Peterson pitched the final three innings allowing only three hits. But Peterson fell victim to five Sandburg errors and yielded three unearned runs. This was enough to defeat the Eagles 5-4 and thus end their bid to go down state. The Eagle offense could muster but five base hits. Dennis Breen went 2 for 2 with a homerun and a single. He drove in all four of the Eagle runs.

Thursday, May 13, the Eagles went back to conference play. The Eagles went to Rich to play the hottest team in the conference at this writing. The Rockets led 2-0 up until the sixth, when they broke loose for five runs. Roland Roth was the losing pitcher. He gave up eight hits, struck out five and walked five. The Eagles committed seven errors.

Pacing the Eagles four hit attack off Bob Bladec, was third baseman Al Ivins who went 2 for 3. He is making a strong bid for all conference third baseman, having the second best batting average on the team.

Friday night, May 14, the Eagles traveled to Lockport Central to play a game under the lights. Ed Peterson was given his first starting assignment and pitched a great game, losing in the bottom of the ninth.

The Porters drew first blood in the bottom of the first. On an error, a walk, and one hit, they managed to score two runs.

The Eagles got one of these back, however, in the third, when Tom Hofferica led off with a triple, and three batters later, stole home on the front end of a delayed double steal.

In the top of the fourth, the Eagles capitalized on four Lockport errors, when Jerry Knapp drove a single thru the center of the diamond to score two runs. The Eagles picked up their other run on a triple by Phil Aliano and a single by Ron DeHertogh.

Leading 402, in the bottom of the sixth, Peterson retired the first two batters. The third battery, however, reached first on a broken bat single to center. The next batter hit a one and two pitch over the fence for a home run, and tied the score.

In the fateful ninth, Peterson struck out the first batter, his twelfth strikeout victim of the night, the next man walked. The third man up laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt, advancing the man to second base. On a one and two pitch again, the opposing pitcher lofted a high fly ball to right fielder Dennis Breen. Breen misjudged the ball and it fell in front of him for the game winning hit.

This week the Eagles have only one game. They will play the Reavis Rams at Reavis, Thursday, May 20.

DISTAFF GOLF

BY BIRDIE McDIVOT

The winners this week for Willow Run Ladies Golf club were Dorothy Tyler with a net 40, Chuck Sondergaard with a net 40, Jean Prina with a net 42 and June Eppelheimer and Esther Hug tied with a net 43. Jean Prina and June Eppelheimer (who won the draw from Esther) won the balls.

It was a beautiful day and 21 members played with 14 qualifying for prizes. There were so many balls flying all over the course that even the gophers rebelled and tried to scare away the intruders. One nearly did as Sherrie reported. John sliced a ball as he cut the grass.

One never knows where to hunt for a lost ball. Ardell found one of hers hiding in an evergreen, looking like a Christmas ornament.

Helen Churchill is going to the New York fair next week so maybe some of us will have a chance to win while she is gone. Don't pray for rain on Thursday, Helen.

Grace Mitchell reports that we will qualify for match play June 3rd. All those who have not qualified to date need at least 5 games to determine handicap. Come on girls and get qualified so you do not miss out on the match.

See you next week?

Legion Aux. Elects Officers

The American Legion Auxiliary to Bobzin-Swinford post, Frankfort, has elected officers for the coming year, which from all indications is to be a busy one.

Mrs. Kenneth Oetter will head the group as president. The others elected are: Mrs. Orville Schinkowski, 1st vice pres.; Mrs. Edward Ebert, secretary; Mrs. Charles McManimen, treasurer; Mrs. Harold Schifler, historian; Mrs. Lloyd Lühring, chaplain; Mrs. Daniel Hecht, sgt. - at - arms; Mrs. Lloyd Matthews, assistant sgt. - at - arms.

The meeting was held at the Frankfort grade school. Mrs. Hecht, who is Americanism chairman for the auxiliary, reported that the results of the essay contest will be announced in June. All the papers have been graded.

Several of the members plan to attend the Girl State Tea at Elgin this Sunday. Reservations have been made by Mrs. McManimen, Girl State chairman of the local unit. It was announced previously that the choice of the Frankfort auxiliary for Girls State this year is Bonnie Lauffer.

The Auxiliary is to serve a buffet luncheon tomorrow night at the Frankfort Veterans Memorial Home for the Will County Council of the American Legion, which is to hold its meeting there.

The Auxiliary will be selling poppies on the streets Friday and Saturday.

The unit has made a donation to the Spending Fund for the soldiers and sailors in the home at Normal and also to the Four Chaplains' scroll which is to be presented to the national president of the Auxiliary.

Because the Legion post is planning a homecoming celebration at Frankfort beginning June 9, the Auxiliary will change its meeting date to June 3. Mrs. Russell Bieritz, 11th district director, will be the guest of the unit on that occasion.

On June 6 the 11th district convention is to be held at St. Charles. It is to convene at 12:30 p.m. The 2nd division convention is set for June 26 and 27 at Fox Lake.

Mrs. Oetter won the mystery gift. Mrs. Matthews will be serving the Junior Members when they meet tonight at the Hecht home.

We'll bet there's a modern gas range in their kitchens.

Take the Programmed Oven feature new gas ranges provide.

You can slide a nice roast inside—set the timer control for two, three, four hours—then take off for shopping or socializing.

One in a series to help you enjoy better telephone service

Who to call about what at the telephone company

It would be nice if we could give you the number of just one person to call about anything having to do with your telephone. But to do the best job of handling the many different questions and requests that come up, we put several different people at your service.

There is, however, one person who can care for most of your telephone needs. She is:

Your Service Representative

She's the one to call for new telephone service; changes in your service; information about telephone equipment and prices; changes or additions to your directory listing; copies of extra directories; questions about your telephone bill. Call your Service Representative, too, with any general questions about your telephone service.

If your case requires something out of the ordinary, the Service Representative can usually handle it.

If necessary she can turn to her Supervisor.

And, should you feel a need to talk to someone "higher up," the Supervisor or the Manager, who's boss of the office where your account is handled, are ready to help you.

To talk to your Service Representative, call your telephone business office.

The number is in the front of your directory.

Here are a few other key people to call for special service needs:

Repair Service

If your telephone isn't working right, call Repair Service. You will find the number in the front pages of your local telephone directory—or ask your Operator (dial zero). With our new regional service centers we're equipped to serve you any time, day or night.

And there's no extra charge to you.

Information Service

If you can't find a number in your directory, the Information Operator will be glad to help you. See the front pages of your directory for her number.

For a number in most distant locations (if you have Direct Distance Dialing service), dial the distant Area Code plus 555-1212—no charge for this call. Otherwise, ask your Long Distance Operator.

The Operator

If your need is other than business with the phone company—remember the Operator is always behind your dial. Dial "zero" for assistance with any call.
